to test the toughest of constitutions. Life, in the most tremendous days in the history of the world, is subjected to abnormal pressure and unprecedented strain. Many people find it almost impossible to cope successfully with the worries and cares which beset them at every turn. A break-down is a common occurrence—a "run-down" state of health is commoner still. This is hardly to be wondered at—perhaps in some cases it can scarcely be avoided. Nevertheless, much may be accomplished by the prudent persons who exercise judgment and foresight in matters concerning health. They will give heal to the condition of the digestion for they know that a failure here may prove to be the beginning of a decline of vigour. They will realize that the appearance of what are sometimes called "stomach symptoms" is an indication that the time has come necessary "defensive measures" in the form of that reliable medicine known as Beecham's Pills. No better remedy exists for the treatment of digestive trouble in its early stages. Beecham's Pills have proved to be an unmistakable, world-wide success for the cure of biliousness, sick headache, constipation, and dyspeptic conditions generally. Many a break-down has been averted, many a poor condition of health has been remedied by a timely course of

There is a clear call to national economy and we all must heed it and answer it, otherwise -? Economy is necessary in small matters as well as in large, and particularly in articles which are in regular daily use, such as TOILET SOAP.

But economy does not mean using a poor, low-priced article, because inefficiency means waste. True economy is the laying out of money, on necessary articles only, with a view to the best return. In TOILET SOAP, bear in mind that a fancy box and ornate wrapper have to be paid for by you, and they are of no use to you. Therefore, you should see to it that your money buys "all soap," and the best at that.

BARRINGTON'S " COMPLEXION " TOILET SOAP

THE IRISH PAPER MILLS CO., CLONDALKIN, ASK EVERYBODY TO

SAVE WASTE PAPER

It is not only the patriotic duty but is in the individual interests of every man, woman, and child in the country to collect every available Scrap of Paper so that the Irish Paper Mills may be kept running through this time

THE IRISH PAPER MILLS COMPANY guarantee that packs will be supplied and maximum prices fixed by the Covernment paid by their Contractors, Messrs. M. Duan and Co. BANKS, PUBLIC OFFICES, and BUSINESS FIRMS having large stocks of old paper should get rid of it now, as the shortage of paper-making material is becoming very acute, and the problem is to keep Mills running.

THE IRISH PAPER MILLS COMPANY are in a position to guarantee the destruction and repulping of ALL grades of paper, and their contractors will, if necessary, in the case of private documents, prepare the waste paper on the seller's premises and have it taken direct to the Mills and destroyed under the eye of a representative of the seller.

The minimum quantity of waste paper which can be taken in any one consignment is one cwt. Carriage on smaller quantities would be pro-merely addressed inquiries to the Allied Governments asking for an expression of their views on the latest developments in Russia. In other words, Japan is anxious that any action which may be taken shall be Teachers' Grievances. In addition to our political and agrarian disorders we are threatened with a strike of national teachers. A grave incontaken not on her initiative, but at the invitation of the Allies. At the same time the Japanese Government makes no secret of its own opinion that the time is ripe for enience at any time, such a strike would e a public danger now, and the Irish overnment must use every reasonable intervention. A statement, manifestly inspired by the Government, has been issued in Tokyo which lays stress on the means to avert it. The threat by the Teachers' Central Executive is the outcome necessity of intervention, but lays equal stress on the necessity of guarding against the suspicion that Japan is taking adof their dissatisfaction with the Govern-ment's scheme for the improvement of salaries and with its tardiness in taking official notice of their criticisms and complaints. Certainly the teachers cannot be praised for "painful patience in delays"—they have filled the Press with vociferation—but that the delays have been exasperating is beyond question, and that they have been unnecessary is hardly open to doubt. The teachers object to the new grant of £334,000 on two grounds. They say that it is utterly inadequate, whether considered as a permanent addition to salaries or as, in Mr. Duke's words, "a grant to meet the necessities of the time and its difficulties." They complain also that it is so unequally distributed that the best paid teachers get most benefit from it, while the most poorly paid get little or nothing. Much of the teachers' criticism, official and individual, has been extravagant and unjust: but, on the whole, the Irish nublic recompless that their griev. official and individual, has been extravagant and unjust: but, on the whole, the Irish public recognises that their grievance is legitimate. School managers of all persuasions have endorsed it, and the heads of the Churches have expressed sympathy with it. The Government, however, has been singularly slow to move. An All-Iroland deputation, which was organised some weeks ago, has been unable to secure an interview with the Chief Sceretary. Mr. Duke promised to receive it, but has not yet found an opportunity. The teachers detect a sinister motive in this delay. They fear that the Government in tends to put the obnoxious "White Paper proposals" into force before the deputation is allowed to state its case. The Central Executive has decided, therefore, to take an immediate referendum of the teachers on the question of withdrawing from the schools until their claims are granted. The situation denands coolness and samity from all the parties concerned—from the teachers, from the Board of National Education, from the Government, and from the Irish people. In spite of the schools until their claims are granted. The situation denands coolness and sanity from all the parties concerned—from the teachers, from the Board of National Education, from the Government, and from the Irish people. In spite of

Again, on the same assumption, the teachers' unreasoning attacks on the National Board must give great satisfaction to the Treasury, for their only result is to confuse the registration of the same and to leave the public in a state of perplexity. The truth seems to be thin the Board is genuinely sympathetic with the teachers, that it has fought their case of the logal seamens and to leave the public in a state of perplexity. than the national teachers, but their grievances are not less substantial. Indeed, we are satisfied that the position of many lay secondary teachers in Ireland is worse than that of the worst paid among the 15,000 who serve the National Board. Within the last few years the secondary teachers have suffered some bitter disappointments. The State has recognised their hardships, has promised to remedy them, and has made two efforts—doubtless, perfectly honest—to keep its promise. The Birrell Grant of £40,000 was intended to increase the salaries and improve the status of lay secondary teachers, but only a small part of it reached their hardships, has considerable their hardships, has promised to increase the salaries and improve the status of lay secondary teachers, but only a small part of it reached their pockets: the larger part was diverted, gently but firmly, to the enrichment of the schools. The inew £50,000 grant was to have repaired this defect, but the lay teachers—especially those in Roman Catholic schools—find that new presbyter is but old priest writ large. Their study of the rules for the administration of the new grant fails to confirm Mr. Duke's assurtance that they will protect the interests of the lay teachers. The teachers believe that in a considerable number of schools the rules can, and will, be evaded, and that the improved salaries and better conditions of tenure will turn out to be, as in the case of the Birrell Grant, empty promises. These fears may be wholly or partially unfounded; but the teachers are entitled to ask that the rules shall be made absolutely free from ambiguity, and that is a request which so skillful a lawyer as Mr. Duke ought not to find impraces as Mr. Duke ought n A NEW PLAN TO HELP THEM.

entitled to ask that the rules shall be made absolutely free from ambiguity, and that is a request which so skilful a lawyer as Mr. Duke ought not to find impracticable. The quality of our secondary education depends on the efficiency of the toachers far more than on the wealth of the schools; and the moral and educational force of the lay teachers' claims is not diminished by the fact that they do forward this national force of the lay teachers' claims is not diminished by the fact that they do forward this national movement. is not diminished by the fact that they do not threaten to go on strike. We are glad to see that Mr. Duke received a deputation of lay secondary teachers on Monday, and we hope that their statement of their from the residence of
